

Dental on Martyn Privacy Policy

1. Introduction

- 1.1 From time to time Dental on Martyn ("Practice") is required to collect, hold, use and/or disclose personal information relating to individuals (including, but not limited to, its clients, contractors, suppliers and employees) in the performance of its business activities.
- 1.2 This document sets out the Practice's policy in relation to the protection of personal information, as under the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) the ("Act") and the Australian Privacy Principles ("APP").
- 1.3 The APPs regulate the handling of personal information.

2. What is Personal Information?

- 2.1 Personal information means information or an opinion (including information or an opinion forming part of a database), whether true or not, and whether recorded in a material form or not, about an individual whose identity is apparent, or can reasonably be ascertained, from the information or opinion.

3. Employee Records

- 3.1 This policy does not apply to the collection, holding, use or disclosure of personal information that is an employee record.
- 3.2 An employee record is a record of personal information relating to the employment of an employee. Examples of personal information relating to the employment of the employee include, but are not limited to, health information and information about the engagement, training, disciplining, resignation, termination, terms, and conditions of employment of the employee. Please see the Act for further examples of employee records.

4. Kinds of Information that the Practice Collects and Holds

- 4.1 The Practice collects personal information that is reasonably necessary for one or more of its functions or activities.
- 4.2 The type of information that the Practice collects and holds may depend on your relationship with the Practice. For example:
 - i. Candidate: if you are a candidate seeking employment with the Practice, the Practice may collect and hold information including your name, address, email address, contact telephone number, gender, age, employment history, references, resume, medical history, emergency contact, taxation details, qualifications and payment details.

- 5.3 When the Practice collects personal information about you through publicly available information sources, it will manage such information in accordance with the APPs.
- 5.4 At or before the time or, if it is not reasonably practicable, as soon as practicable after, the Practice collects personal information, the Practice must take such steps as are reasonable in the circumstances to either notify you or otherwise ensure that you are made aware of the following:
 - i. the identity and contact details of the Practice;
 - ii. that the Practice has collected personal information from someone other than you if you are unaware that such information has been collected;
 - iii. that collection of personal information is required by Australian law, if it is;
 - iv. the purpose for which the Practice collects the personal information;
 - v. the consequences if the Practice does not collect some or all of the personal information;

- vi. any other third party to which the Practice may disclose the personal information.
- vii. the Practice's privacy policy contains information about how you may access and seek correction of personal information held by the Practice and how you may complain about a breach of the APPs; and
- viii. whether the Practice is likely to disclose personal information to overseas recipients, and the countries in which those recipients are likely to be located.

5.5 Unsolicited personal information is personal information that the Practice receives which it did not solicit. Unless the Practice determines that it could have collected the personal information in line with the APPs or the information is contained within a Commonwealth record, it must destroy the information to ensure it is de-identified.

6. Purposes for which the Practice Collects, Holds, Uses and/or Discloses Personal Information

- 6.1 The Practice will collect personal information if it is reasonably necessary for one or more of its functions or activities.
- 6.2 The main purposes for which the Practice may collect, hold, use and/or disclose personal information may include but are not limited to:
 - i. recruitment functions;
 - ii. client service management;
 - iii. training and events;
 - iv. surveys and general research; and
 - v. business relationship management.
- 6.3 The Practice may also collect, hold, use and/or disclose personal information if you consent or if required or authorised under law.

Direct marketing:

- 6.4 The Practice may use or disclose personal information (other than sensitive information) about you for the purpose of direct marketing (for example, advising you of new goods and/or services being offered by the Practice).
- 6.5 The Practice may use or disclose sensitive information about you for the purpose of direct marketing if you have consented to the use or disclosure of the information for that purpose.
- 6.6 You can opt out of receiving direct marketing communications from the Practice by contacting the Privacy Officer in writing or if permissible accessing the Practice's website and unsubscribing appropriately.

7. Disclosure of Personal Information

- 7.1 The Practice may disclose your personal information for any of the purposes for which it was collected, as indicated under clause 6 of this policy, or where it is under a legal duty to do so.
- 7.2 Disclosure will usually be internally and to related entities or to third parties such as contracted service suppliers.

- 7.3 Before the Practice discloses personal information about you to a third party, the Practice will take steps as are reasonable in the circumstances to ensure that the third party does not breach the APPs in relation to the information.

8. Access to Personal Information

- 8.1 If the Practice holds personal information about you, you may request access to that information by putting the request in writing and sending it to the Practice Manager. The Practice will respond to any request within a reasonable period, and a charge may apply for giving access to the personal information.
- 8.2 There are certain circumstances in which the Practice may refuse to grant you access to the personal information. In such situations the Practice will give you written notice that sets out:
- i. the reasons for the refusal; and
 - ii. the mechanisms available to you to make a complaint.
